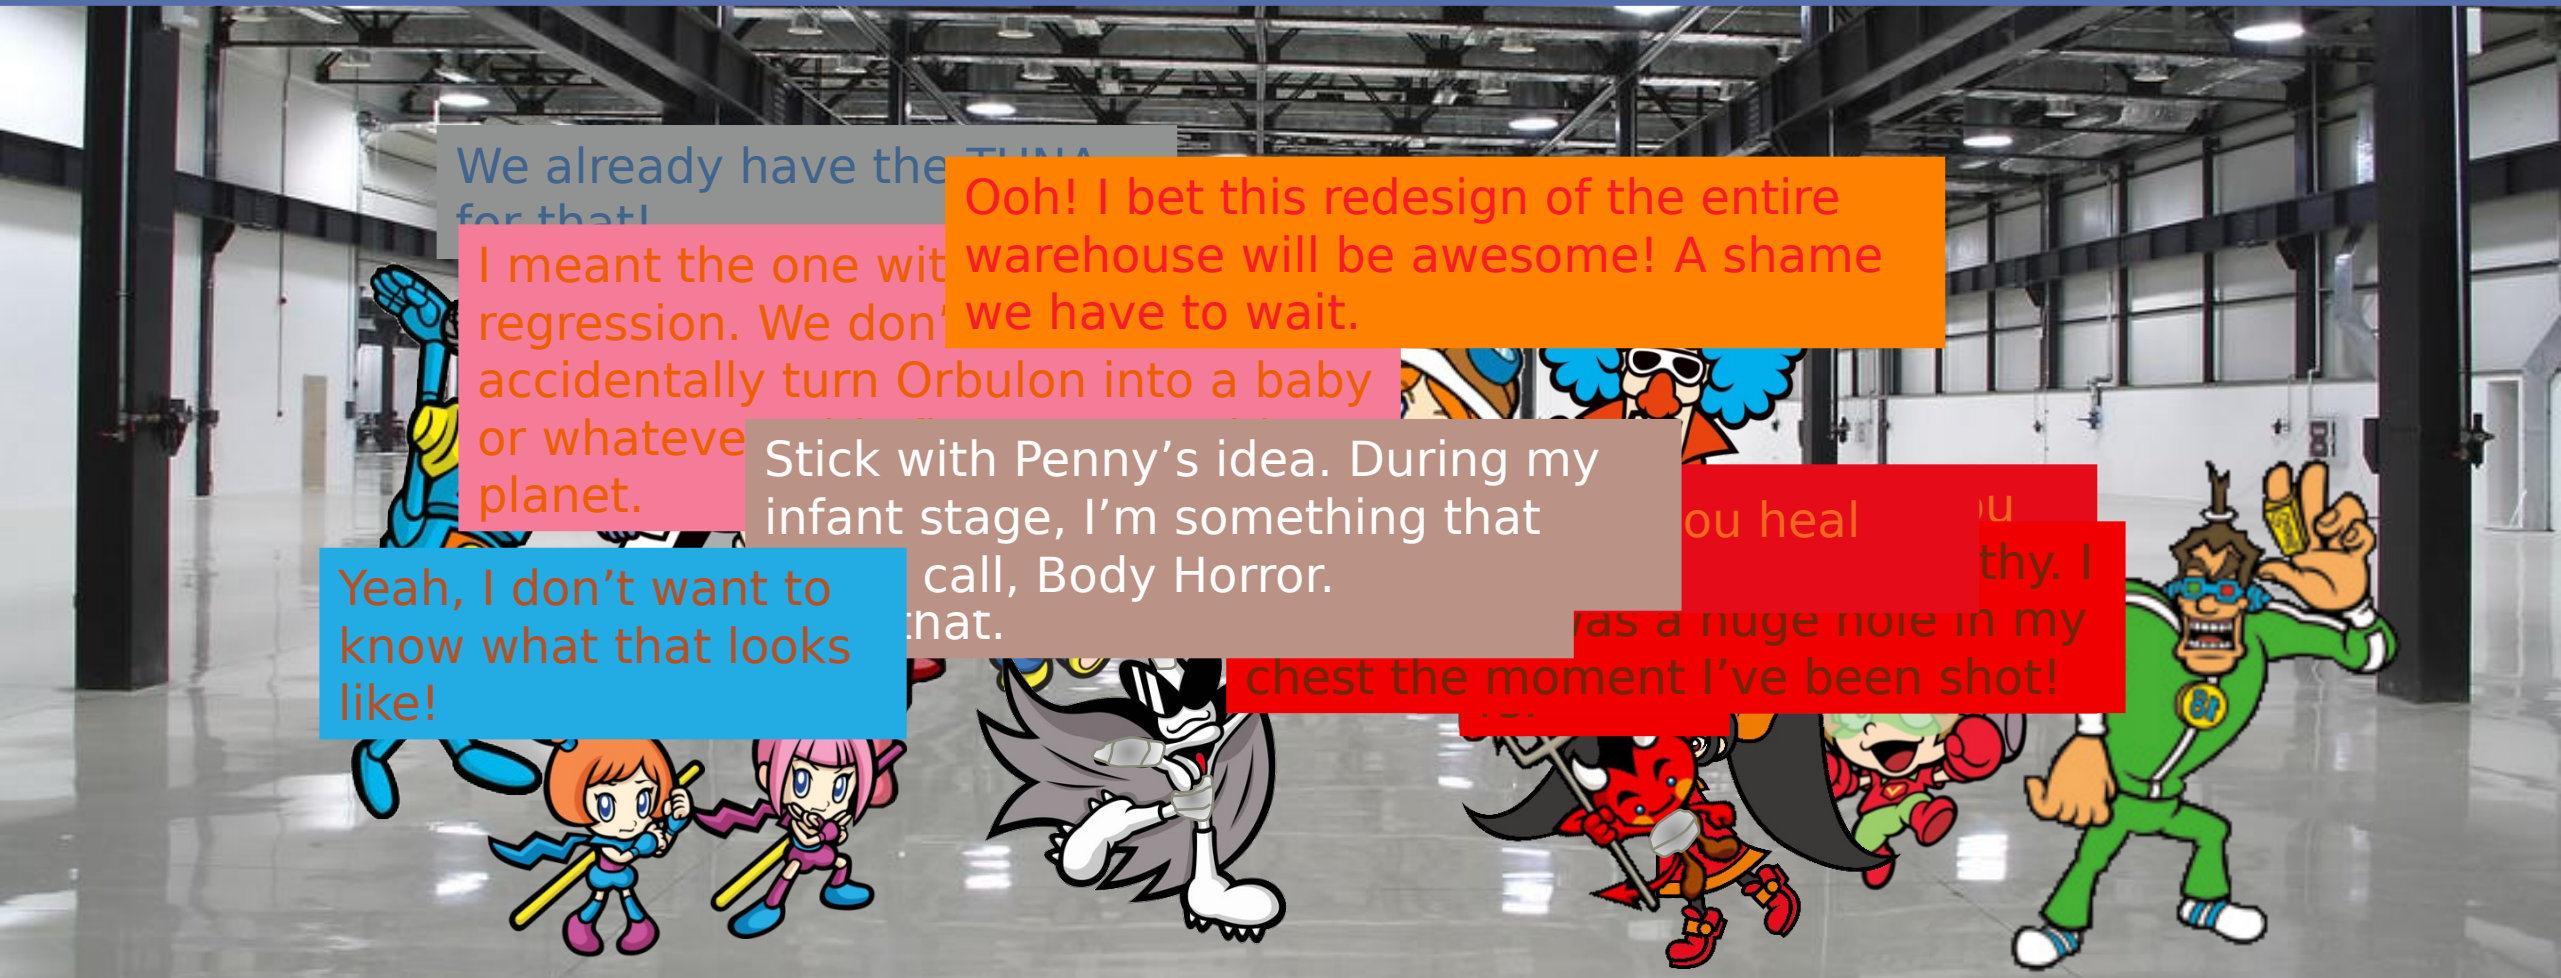
Since I just fought her in the main area, that reminds me. My fellow critics are right. This warehouse is dull and inspired! But that’s okay! I’ll renovate the entire thing good as new like a 5-star hotel! But first, I need everybody outside so I can have more room to spruce things up.

Alright! Chumps! It’s about time this warehouse will be transformed into a majestic, beautiful house that’ll give that enthusiastic host, Julie Chen a run to hand over her money! And for that, all of you need to go outside and do something you are free to do! I’ll call you in when the renovation is good as new!



It seems that Cricket's about to

Scientifically speaking, Kathy’s curse on Mantis powered up of his aura to tremendous heights, giving him super strength and a change in his mood. Technically speaking with this and with 50% chance of turning against us, it’s the equivalent to LSD and steroids combined with mood swings, afterimage effects, tiredness afterwards and ability to kill birds nearby.
